There was protest at Gwol-Hoss community in Riyom Local Government Area of Plateau State yesterday, following the murder of two persons, Dachung Gyang and Zam Sunday, by armed militias.

Scroes of angry women stormed a military checkpoint to register their displeasure over the killings said to have occurred Tuesday night.

It was gathered that their anger was heightened by the fact that the military checkpoint is located few metres from where the two men were killed around 8:45pm.

The protesters, who blocked the Jos-Abuja Highway and the road leading to the checkpoint of Sector 6, Operation Safe Haven, demanded the substitution of the military for not protecting them.

The road blocks caused major traffic jam in the areas with motorists, commuters stranded.
