

Amotekun corps found dead

Toba Adedeji, Osogbo

June 6, 2023

A middle-aged corps of Osun Security Network Agency codenamed Amotekun, Demilade Eluwande, has been found dead at his farm in Ile-Ife.

It was gathered that Eluwande had gone to his farm at the early hours of Sunday to harvest cocoa with his wife when he died.

Read Also: One dead in Amotekun/traders clashes

A source who confided in The Nation, disclosed that the farmland was subject of dispute as among two families claiming ownership of the land. It was alleged that they threatened to kill him diabolically if he refused to cede the land to them.

It was gathered that while Eluwande was in the farm plucking cocoa, he became unconscious and died. It was revealed that the family of the deceased had taken the corpse for burial at Ajidara, Ile-Ife.

The spokesperson for the Nigerian Security and Civil Defence Corps, NSCDC, Osun State Command, Kehinde Adeleke, confirmed the incident.