

Robbers kill businessman in Bayelsa

Suspected armed robbers yesterday killed a businessman in his office, opposite Ekeki Motor Park, Yenagoa, the Bayelsa State capital.

The businessman, who was simply identified as Cletus, was said to have been trailed to his office in early hours and stabbed several times in the head until he died.

The assailant were said to have left with undisclosed amount of money, his mobile phone and highlander jeep, packed opposite the office.

Related News

- Okilo memorial: Bayelsa to renovate ex-Rivers governor's personal residence
- Four sentenced to 40 years each for kidnapping Bayelsa ex-commissioner
- Appeal Court to hear Bayelsa poll case today

Read Also: Ladipo's night of bullets: How police neutralised deadly kidnap gang

The News Agency of Nigeria (NAN) correspondent, who visited the scene, saw neighbours mourning him. His body was discovered by his workers who resumed duty.

The deceased, in his late 40s, was said to be quiet businessman who had other businesses in the metropolis.

Spokesman, Police Command in Bayelsa, ASP Musa Mohammed, said investigation into the matter had begun.