

Husband beats expectant wife to death in Niger

A 24-year-old expectant woman, identified as Hauwa Isah, has been beaten to death by her husband in Limawa area of Minna in Niger state.

Neighbours said the 31-year-old husband of the woman, Mohammed Sani, has always been beating her as there was no day that he does not beat her.

According to neighbors, they heard loud screams coming from the couple's residence on Tuesday at about 10pm saying that before they could go and rescue her from her husband, it was already too late.

---

Related News

- Outrage in Niger community over state pardon for 11 convicts
- Niger govt receives over N203m, rice donations for Mokwa flood victims
- Our tragedies, by Mokwa flood victims

---

Read Also: Nigeria, UNICEF partner to train 20m youths in digital skills by 2030

---

"We found her lifeless on the ground with bruises all over her body. This woman is pregnant and her husband keeps beating her everyday", a neighbour said.

This was confirmed by the Niger State Police Public Relations Officer, SP Wasiu Abiodun, who said that the suspect is already in the police custody.