Delta killing: Governor promises justice

Delta State Governor, Sheriff Oborevwori, has assured that justice would be served in the killing of a yet-to-be-identified lady in Abraka by security operatives.

He consoled the bereaved family and urged security operatives to exercise maximum restraint by adhering strictly to established operational standards in order to avoid unnecessary harm to members of the public.

The incident occurred when the security operatives, reportedly in pursuit of suspected criminals, allegedly fired a shot that struck the victim.

She was rushed to a nearby hospital but was pronounced dead on arrival.

Oborevwori, in a statement by his Chief Press Secretary, Sir Festus Ahon, described the killing as “very unfortunate,” stressing that the tragedy could have been avoided had the operatives adhered strictly to standard operational procedures.

He charged security agencies operating in the state to exercise restraint and professionalism in the discharge of their duties to avoid needless loss of innocent lives.

The governor reiterated his government's commitment to protecting the lives and property of residents, urging the people of Abraka to remain calm as investigations continue into the incident.
