Zamfara police arrest man for alleged murder

THE police in Zamfara have arrested a 25-year-old man, Ibrahim Sulaiman, for allegedly killing a 66-year-old security guard, Malam Hamisu Amadu.

Amadu, a staff of the Federal Ministry of Communication, was stabbed to death last weekend.

Amadu was stabbed as he tried to prevent Sulaiman from stealing a goat that belonged to one of the ministry's staff.

Sulaiman, son of one of the management staff of the ministry, allegedly stabbed Amadu on the neck because he reported the theft case to the authorities of the office the previous day.

The state command's Police Public Relations Officer, Mr. Lawal Abdullahi, confirmed the incident and the arrest.

He said as soon as investigation was completed, the suspect would be charged to court.
