

4 die in Rivers cult clash

FOUR persons have been killed in two rival cult groups clash in Rumuekpe, in Emohua Local Government Area of Rivers State.

The News Agency of Nigeria (NAN) reports that Rumuekpe had in the past few years been a hotbed for cult clashes.

The Sunday clash where four men were killed was caused by a resurrection of old scars between the Degbam and Dewell cults.

Old people and women have fled to neighbouring communities for refuge.

The Rivers Police Public Relations Officer, Mrs. Ireju Barasua, said armed policemen had been deployed to the area to curtail the situation.

She said the command would leave no stone unturned to unmask those, who were in the habit of disturbing the peace in the state.
