

Man accused of insulting Prophet Mohammed beheaded

MUHAMMAD SABIU-MAIDUGURI

THE man accused of insulting Prophet Mohammed and ran to the police station at Nassara Burkullo of Bukkuyum Local Government Area of Zamfara State for protection has been beheaded.

Findings gathered that the deceased was killed when he sneaked from where he was hiding and returned to his family house on Sunday evening.

Eyewitness told the Nigerian Tribune that when he was about to enter his family house, unknown to him, some youths sighted him and later stormed his room and beheaded him.

"Around 8.14 p.m, we heard a loud shout from the deceased's family house and we rushed to see what was amiss but behold was the lifeless body of the man and his head removed, "sources declared.

As at the time of filing this report, the deceased had been taken to an unknown destination by his relations for burial as youths in the village insisted that he was not going to be buried in the town.

When contacted, the Police Public Relations

Officer, DSP Lawal Abdullahi, confirmed that the accused had been killed by unknown persons. He said that normalcy had returned to the village and a detachment of mobile police had been deployed to ensure that peace prevailed.
