Robbers kill three in Lagos; policeman, NSCDC officer die in hit-and-run

Three people, including a night guard, were on Friday, killed while another person was injured by a gang of armed robbers, who invaded Ilapo village in Alagbado area of Lagos State.

An unidentified policeman and an official of the Nigerian Security and Civil Defence Corps, (NSCDC), Adenekan, were on Saturday killed by a hit and run driver in the state as well.

Residents of Sodeke and Church streets at Okolie petrol area of Ilapo village were early, on Friday, woken up by a gang of armed robbers, who invaded the area.

At the end of the attack, two cousins, Fatai Ogunsola and Aremu Salisu and a security man, were killed while another security man was shot in the leg.

At the deceased's (Ogunsola's) house, the armed robbers made away with money, mobile phones, jewelry and other valuables.

A son to Salisu, Rafiu, while speaking with Sunday Tribune said the robbers had not gained entry into their apartment before they shot his father.

Rafiu said, "they were trying to forcefully enter our house, but when my father approached the entrance, one of them shot him in the head and he died instantly."

Before the armed robbers raided the houses, they had succeeded in killing one of the security men on guard.

The attack on the security men was said to be a reprisal, after the security men had reportedly prevented the armed robbers from operating in the area and succeeded in killing one of them recently.

The armed robbers ensured that they killed one of the security men, sliced his throat and ensured that he was not taken to the hospital before leaving the area.

In another incident, a policeman and an official of the NSCDC were crushed to death by a hit and run driver on Saturday at Ikeja.

Another unidentified policeman was also injured in the incident, during efforts to rescue occupants of vehicles, which were involved in a multiple accidents at Ikeja.
