Two weeks after sustaining critical injuries in an auto crash, along Oke-Ila, in Ifedayo Local Government Area of Osun State, a lecturer of the Osun State University, Mr Wale Farawe, on Monday, died at the Ladoke Akintola University Of Technology Teaching Hospital (LAUTECH), Osogbo.

A student and a driver of the institution also lost their lives in the same auto accident when they were going for an excursion at Ayinkunnugba Waterfalls in Oke-Ila community.

Nigerian Tribune reliably gathered that Farawe, who lectured in the Department of History and International Studies, had battled to survive the impacts of the accident at the emergency unit of LAUTECH for 15 days before he finally died on Monday.

According to source close to the deceased, "the accident occurred at Oke Ila Road, during the History and International Studies Students' Association, (HISSA) Annual Week and excursion to Ayinkunnugba, Waterfalls, in Oke-Ila, Osun State".

Doctors were said to have struggled to save Farawe, who had been unconscious for two weeks after the auto crash, but their efforts failed to pay off.
