FULANI mercenaries, on Monday and Tuesday respectively, attacked more communities in Obi, Lafia East and Keana Local Government Areas of Nasarawa State, killing many people and setting more houses ablaze, including churches.

Credible sources told the Nigerian Tribune last night that invasion of the communities was in continuation of face-off between Eggon farmers and Fulani herdsmen in the state.

It was reliably gathered that the marauders, who had a fulfilled day during the invasions, also looted, as helpless farmers abandoned their places of abode for fear of being killed by the attackers, who were said to be armed with AK47 rifle and other dangerous weapons.

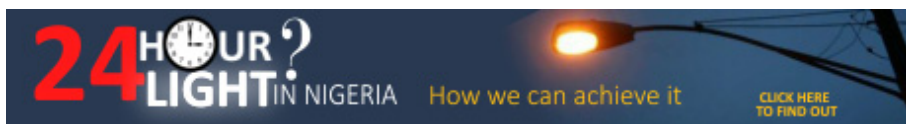

Informed sources confided in the Nigerian Tribune that the invasion of Agaba at Duduguru and Kadarko communities took place on Monday in which many people were killed, while Madagba and Ugah villages took place, on Tuesday, with casualty figure still sketchy as at press time.

Reports monitored at Ugah in Lafia East development area indicated that churches were also burnt down.

It will be recalled that three days earlier, the marauders invaded some communities in Keana area, leaving scores dead, a situation which caused apprehension in Doma Local Government, and made some residents fled their homes for fear of being caught in violent attacks, sweeping across part of the state.

When contacted on phone last night, the state Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO), a Deputy Superintendent of Police (DSP), Ugochukwu Theodore, confirmed Agaba attack in Duduguru and Madagba village in Obi Local government, saying Ugah report was yet to get to his table.

On casualty figure, the PPRO said no information on that yet, but normalcy has since returned to all the troubled communities, as adequate security personnel had been deployed to forestall future occurrence.
