THERE was pandemonium in Ihiala town in Ihiala Local Government Area of Anambra State, on Sunday, when a boy died as two cult groups, Junior Vickings (JV) confraternity and Vipers Junior Ayes (VJA) confraternity clashed.

The problem started in a brothel along Onitsha-Owerri Expressway in Ihiala, around Umuduru in Eziani village of the town, which claimed the life of the 19-year-old boy, Friday Okonkwo, who was pounced on by one of the group that was said to have inflicted machete cuts on his head and throat.

According to an eyewitness who preferred anonymity, Friday Okonkwo was a member of Vipers Junior Aye confraternity and was drinking in the brothel when misunderstanding ensued between the two groups.

The clash was said to have occurred when Junior Vicking confraternity members greeted like the Vipers and using their slogans to make fun, as a way of making the other group a laughing stalk and reducing them to nothing and irrelevant.

The greetings were said to have infuriated the other group who were also drinking at the same brothel.

The PPRO of Anambra Police Command, Mr Uche Eze, confirmed hearing the story but said that he is still waiting for the full details of the case from Ihiala Divisional Police Headquarters.
