THE Chief Security Officer (CSO) of the Nasarawa State Polytechnic, Lafia, Mr Kafas Aboyi, has been arrested by the police for allegedly promoting and financing cultism in the institution.

Credible source told the Nigerian Tribune that the CSO was nabbed on Monday night at his residence, by the State

Anti-Robbery Squad (SARS), led by the Deputy Superintendent of Police, Mr Anuforo Cletus.

It was further learnt that his arrest was not unconnected with the revelations of some cultists, who were earlier arrested, following the gruesome killing of one Mr Campus, on Sunday night.

Informed top school source confided in the Nigerian Tribune that the institution's rector was in a confused state, as his non-appearance in the school, was said to have heighten panic in the institution.

According to impeccable source, who preferred anonymity, "the CSO is alleged to be fully involved in cultism, because some of the cult guys who were arrested, have confirmed to the police. The rector too may be invited for questioning."

Campus, who was gruesomely murdered by a rival cult group, was said to have led SARS to the residence of some cultists to effect the arrest.

Five days after, the Nigerian Tribune gathered that members of the arrested cult group traced Campus to Agbala beer parlour on Yashama Street in Ombi 1, where he usually relaxed, macheted him to death and brought out his intestines.

When contacted on phone on Tuesday, in Lafia the state capital, the state Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO), Ismaila Numan, confirmed the arrest of the CSO and some cult members, saying the CSO was arrested in connection with cult-related issues.

According to him, "yes, I can confirm to you that the CSO of NASPOLY was arrested in connection with cult cases and we are still interrogating him, so after the investigations, we will get back to you."
