

then that Ajahs heaved a sigh of relief.

They were still recovering from the ugly experience thinking all was over when the gunmen struck at their private

Crime Diary

Monday, April 13, 2015

There was tension in Ilase in Obokun Local Government Area of Osun State, following the invasion of the community by some gunmen during the election on Saturday.

• Heavily armed men, believed to be robbers, invaded Calabar, Cross River State, and held many people hostage for several hours. The robbers killed at least three persons, among them a policeman during the operation which lasted over three hours.