Writer: Olayinka Olukoya —Abeokuta

A bullion van driver attached to a new generation bank, on Thursday afternoon, killed a 22 year-old carpentry apprentice in Oke-Ilewo area of Abeokuta.

The occupants of the van were reported to have abandoned the victim and fled the scene for fear of being attacked by mob. The incident caused confusion as commercial motorcyclists later started a protest which led to vandalism of property and infliction of injuries on passers-by. Owners of shops and offices in the area hurriedly shut their doors while the busy Lalubu road was deserted. It took the intervention of security agents to put the situation under control.

Speaking on the development, the Ogun State Police Command's Public Relations Officer, Mr Muiyiwa Adejobi, expressed sadness over the incident.

Adejobi, a Deputy Superintendent of Police, however, condemned the activities of the commercial motorcyclists for "taking laws into their hands."

He said the police had to apply minimum force to enable them disperse the protesters in order to restore peace in the area.
