The death toll in the building that collapsed at the Naib Islamic Private School at Gero in Jos South Local Government Area of Plateau State has risen to 10 while 30 students are still in critical condition at Plateau State Specialist Hospital.

The storey building collapsed on Sunday at about 5:30 p.m. when they were having an Islamic lecture. Seven of the students were killed on the spot while over 30 others were rescued from the rumble by people within the vicinity.

The incident created pandemonium in the area as parents whose children attend the school shunned the downpour and dashed to the scene to rescue their children.

One of the teachers in the school who craved anonymity told Tribune Online that three students who sustained fatal injuries died in the early hour of Monday while the rest are being monitored at the Plateau State Specialist Hospital.

Speaking on the incident, one of the students in the hospital, Mamunat Mohammed, said: "We were in the class on Sunday evening receiving Quranic lessons when we heard a loud noise and then, I found myself on this hospital bed. My waist is broken, my legs ache."
