

Troops clear Boko Haram terrorists from Aulari

CHRIS AGBAMBU - ABUJA

TROOPS operating in Bama axis on a fighting patrol have cleared Boko Haram terrorists out of Aulari general area located within the Sambisa Forest.

The troops cleared all the four camps located within the area that included Faldan, Kidiziromari, Kurumari and Ngulda.

One Boko Haram terrorist was killed while trying to escape and about 31 persons were rescued from the terrorists.

A statement from Army headquarters said the troops discovered stockpile of farm produce in metal drums, sacks and underground storage facilities.

It said other items recovered included several bicycles and motorcycles.

According to the statement, some of the farmlands yet to be harvested were also set ablaze by the terrorists.

The statement hinted that a wooden rifle used for training and practice by the terrorists was also retrieved.

In a related development troops of 7 Division Garrison conducted eight fighting patrols along Leje Axis.

The troops cleared the area and about 15 other villages around Leje.

They included Khadadamari, Ladin Buta, Hil-mari, Kashauri, Keshan Ngala, Aiwa, Masu Kura, Mabirni, Grza 1 and 2, Mashuari, Dubenge, Tauba and Maianda.
