FORMER chairman of Academic Staff Union of Universities, (ASUU), Benue State University chapter, Dr (Mrs) Regina and three other people lost their lives in an auto crash along Akwanga, Lafia-Makurdi Road, Nasarawa State.

The accident was said to have occurred on Sunday evening, when they were on their way to Makurdi from Abuja, her car, Toyota Camry, was said to have collided with an on coming car along the Akwanga-Makurdi Highway.

The Nigerian Tribune learnt that all the occupants of the ASUU chairman's vehicle, including her driver, were burnt beyond recognition.

According to a lecturer: "The accident happened with her car. The car got burnt, it looks like we might not see any part of her body because the only thing we can see from the pictures we got is the skeleton of the driver, who was track-fixed on the seat and burnt."

It was gathered that she had gone to Abuja to attend a lecture which though, ended on Friday but was said to have stayed for the weekend in Abuja

Ironically, the Nigerian Tribune learnt that the late ASUU boss, who was an Associate Professor would have been given full professorship in March before the incident occurred.

The state governor, Chief Samuel Ortom and his deputy, Mr Benson Abounu as well as other government functionaries, paid condolence visits to the families of the deceased, on Tuesday.
