No fewer than two persons have been feared dead in a renewed bloody clash between Ogbe-Ijoh community in Warri South West Local Government and Aladja community in Udu Local Government Area of Delta State.

Sunday Tribune gathered that the renewed feud, which occurred on Friday night, also left scores injured and several houses razed.

Names of the two deceased persons were given as Mr. Chicago Friday and Mr. Sunday Ovien.

They were said to have been attacked while in their farm and construction site respectively.

It was gathered that assailants from Ogbe-Ijoh community, alleged to have been armed, attacked Aladja through neighbouring Esaba community road and the main Ogbe-Ijoh road.

But the press secretary to the Ogbe-Ijoh community traditional council, Mr. Monday Keme, said that it was security men hired by both communities, who requested for payment of services rendered, that shot the Aladja people, because they reportedly refused to pay.

President-General of Aladja community, Mr. Elias Dogene, accused the police of complicity in the attack.

He said the attack started immediately mobile policemen with four Hilux vans brought to maintain peace in the area pleaded to take their leave.

According to him, 30 minutes after the mobile policemen left, some Ogbe-Ijoh youths stormed Aladja community with weapons and killed Friday and Ovien and injuring others.

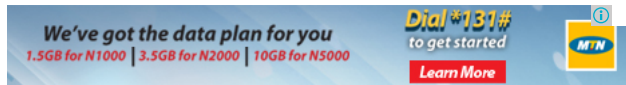

Many of the injured were said to be receiving treatment in hospitals in Udu and environs.

Dogene pleaded with the state government to detail security agencies to the area to enable the committee of enquiry setup by the state government do its job.

But the acting Public Relations Officer of the Delta State Police Command, Mr Charles Muka, confirmed the incident but denied the allegation of police complicity, adding that calm had been restored in the communities.
