Katuka, who relaxed a curfew imposed over Jema'a LGA yesterday, said: "I was briefed that soldiers have been drafted to help secure this area because some youths were parading some locally made fire arms publicly.

According to him, a meeting was summoned to discuss the security in the area, however, as soon as they went into the talks, there were gunshots in the village, causing everyone including the soldiers to scamper for safety.

It was gathered that the shooting lasted for less than 15 minutes resulting in the death of six people including the village head.

However, the Kaninkon Development Association, KADA, in a press statement made available to newsmen in Kaduna on Friday condemned the recent attack in the village.

The statement signed by its National Chairman, Mr Waje Goska Williams, gave the names of the victims as: John Zogo, 85, (the Village Head); Yakubu Abuja, 80; Adamu Bulus, 30 and Majhe Audu, 50. The rest were: Karu Amos, 42; Confidence Kibadu, 29 and Kurma Amo, 44.

Nineteenth century. These attacks are clearly an attempt at achieving what they did not achieve by the Jihad.

"On this day, 27th October, 2016 a group of men in army uniform came to Ungwar Misisi Village and called the village head, Mr John Zogo and the elders of the village for what they claimed to be security briefing on the situation in the area. As soon as the soldiers came and started discussing with the village head and the elders, our people heard gun shots in the outskirts of the village."

Kaduna State Police Spokesman, ASP Aliyu Usman, confirmed the tragedy, but said he was given a casualty figure of four persons.

"I was informed that four people were killed. We are working at getting the criminals," he said.
