AN 11-year-old boy, Ayo and his father, Olanrewaju Aluko, have been arrested by the Ondo State Police Command after the boy shot an eight-year-old primary school pupil, Comfort Emmanuel, with his father's hunting rifle, killing her instantly.

Metro learnt that Ayo was fiddling with his father's double barreled gun when the gun discharged, killing the girl in the process, as she was shot at close range.

It was gathered that the father had left the gun in the living room after returning from his hunting expedition and rushed out to attend to a private matter while the young boy and his friends saw the gun where it was kept when he got home from school.

The sound of the gun reportedly drew the attention of the residents of the community in Ondo, Ondo West Local Government Area of the state.
