It was further learnt that while the event was proceeding, the police officer, who was suspected to have acted because of the influence of alcohol suddenly opened fire and the bullets penetrated the victim's left rib and bursting out through the right rib.

The development was said to have led to confusion in the area as those at the venue of the rally scamper for safety towards directions.

Efforts to save the life of the deceased proved abortive, as he was said to have given up shortly after he was rushed to a nearby hospital.
