

Army kills scores of Boko Haram insurgents in Yobe

TROOPS of the 27 Task Force Brigade and Nigerian Army Special Forces School, Buni-Yadi, Yobe State, on Sunday, killed several Boko Haram insurgents who attacked the military base.

The News Agency of Nigeria (NAN) reported that the Assistant Director, Public Relations, 27 Task Force Brigade, Major Nureni Alimi, disclosed

this in a statement issued on Monday.

Major Alimi said many insurgents were killed and others sustained gunshot wounds, while a cache of anti-aircraft ammunition, bombs, rocket propelled guns and two gun trucks were recovered.

He said, "troops of the 27 Task Force Brigade and the Nigerian Army Special Forces School in Buni-Yadi in Gujba Local Government Area of Yobe State, successfully overcame some Boko Haram terrorists who launched an attack on the military base.

"The terrorists attacked the Brigade around 4:15 p.m. on Sunday, January, 20, daring the troops for almost two and a half hours.

"The gallant troops stood their ground and thoroughly dealt with the insurgents; the troops are in high spirit and jubilated at the victory with high morale," Major Alimi added.

The army spokesperson also disclosed that four soldiers sustained minor injuries and were presently receiving treatment in the Brigade medical facility.
