

Two worshippers electrocuted inside church in Osun

Oluwale Ige | Osogbo

TWO worshippers in a white garment church in Osun State were on Sunday electrocuted during service inside the church, Nigerian Tribune investigation has revealed.

Aside from the two victims identified as Yinka Adeniyi and Busayo Akande, two other members of the church were said to have sustained injuries as a result of the incident.

Credible sources informed the Nigerian Tribune that the victims met their untimely death while holding the microphones used during the church service.

Though details surrounding their death were still sketchy as of the time of filing this report, their corpses were said to have been deposited at the morgue of Osun State General Hospital, Asubiaro in Osogbo.

The incident was said to have caused panic among other worshippers as they hurriedly ran outside the church after the electrocution of the victims.

When contacted on Tuesday, the Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO) of Osun

State Police command, Folasade Odoro, confirmed the incident.

She, however, said the police had begun investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of worshippers.
