About ten persons have been reported dead in a road accident involving three vehicles, including an articulated vehicle.

The accident happened in Agulu, Anaocha Local Government Area of Anambra State.

Tribune Online gathered that the accident happened when the articulated vehicle that was carrying some heavy metals lost its brake while negotiating the road, ramming into one commuter bus and a private car, killing about ten persons at the spot.

Consequently, the State Governor, Chief Willie Obiano, who was presiding over a state executive council meeting was forced to abandon the meeting to rush to the scene.
