2 feared killed, car mart burnt in Abuja

Kehinde Akintola | Abuja

OFFICERS of the Nigeria Police on Monday evening fired tear-gas during the peaceful protest at the Lois Edet House which housed the Nigeria Police headquarters, Abuja, in the bid to wade-off the #EndSARS and pro-SWAT protesters.

The #EndSARS protesters were raged sequel to the allegation that one of the Pro-SWAT protesters attacked them while on a peaceful protest.

One of the Pro-SWAT protesters who was caught was beaten by the #EndSARS protesters.

A car mart located on Kabusa-Apo area of Abuja was set ablaze by unknown youths while two persons reportedly died in the ensuing melee according to a report monitored on Channels Television.

The #EndSARS protesters took over various neigbouring satellite towns across Abuja on Monday.

Another group of protesters, at about 2.00 p.m., staged peaceful protest at Lois Edet House, which housed the Nigeria Police headquarters Area 11, where police shot tear-gas to wade off hundreds of them.