

One dies in Anambra looting attempt

By Michael Ovat-Awka

ONE youth was on Saturday evening feared dead, after falling off the trailer conveying food items suspected to be COVID-19 palliatives owned by Anambra State government while attempting to loot it and was run over by the truck.

Sunday Tribune gathered that the youths under the guise of EndSARS protesters in Awka ambushed and looted a trailer conveying COVID-19 palliatives stored in a warehouse to an unknown location in the state.

The youths were earlier successfully repelled from the State Emergency Management (SEMA) warehouse in Awka where the food and other materials were packed by a combined team of soldiers and policemen.

The youths, however, regrouped and tried to force open the warehouse, causing some government officials to order the loading of the foodstuffs in a trailer to a different location.
