The Peoples Democratic Party (PDP) has condemned the abduction and killing of security operatives by terrorists and bandits, urging President Muhammadu Buhari to end what it described as “his lethargic approach by taking very urgent steps to tackle terrorism in the country.”

This is contained in by Kola Ologbondiyan, National Publicity Secretary in Abuja on Monday in which it lamented that the escalated acts of terrorism in the country are now worsened by the incessant attack on security operatives, the latest being the abduction of no fewer than 18 police operatives by bandits in Kaduna state.

It said the act further highlights the failures of the president to coordinate an effective fight against terrorism in our country.

The statement read in part: “Our party, as the voice of the people, tasks President Buhari to show concern to the plight of Nigerians who are being ravaged by terrorists, bandits, kidnappers and vandals whose activities have been emboldened by the indolent and “President Buhari should listen to Nigerians and rejig his command structure, which has become so weak that officials now rationalize acts of terrorism to the extent of blaming victims, as was the case in the 43 farmers recently beheaded by terrorists in Borno State.

“The situation has become so bad that it took Chadian President Idris Derby to personally lead his troops into our territories to rout out insurgents and free Nigerian communities and our soldiers held captive by terrorists.

“It is indeed unfortunate that despite the manifest security lapses, Mr President has refused to respect the consensus by Nigerians across the board, as validated by the two chambers of the National Assembly to rejig his security architecture, by replacing his service chiefs with more competent hands.”

The PDP called on President Buhari to demonstrate a sense of responsibility to the duties of his office in the interests of vulnerable Nigerians who it said are daily falling victim to bandits, terrorists and kidnappers prowling the land, adding: “Mr. President must know that Nigerians have become despondent due to his failure to provide leadership to our troubled nation.”

The party said it, however, identifies with the police and other security agencies at this trying time and urge them not to be deterred.

The PDP also called on Nigerians to continue to be at alert and not to relent in providing useful information to our security agencies in the fight against terrorism in the country.
