

Okada Riders On Rampage In Sagamu Over Colleague's Death

By Olayinka Olukoya - A... On Feb 16, 2021

LATEST NEWS

Pandemonium broke out, on Tuesday morning, in Sagamu area of Ogun State, as commercial motorcyclists went on the rampage, protesting over the death of a colleague.

It was gathered that the deceased motorcyclist, an Hausa man, lost his life while attempting to resist arrest by a task force put in place by Sagamu Local Government after allegedly driving against traffic.

A source, who spoke with Tribune Online, said the motorcyclist fell and hit his head on the ground and died instantly.

The development threw the entire town into confusion, as motorcycle riders in their numbers protested against the action of the taskforce.

The protesters were said to have destroyed vehicles and other valuables, while residents scampered for safety and many business outlets hurriedly shut down.

The protesters besieged the Local Government Secretariat along Aiyeye road, to register their displeasure on the ugly development.

As of the time of filing this report, normalcy has been restored to the town with everyone going about with their daily activities.

When contacted, the State Police Public Relations Officer, Abimbola Oyeyemi, confirmed the incident, while assuring that the situation had been put under control.

---

YOU SHOULD NOT MISS THESE HEADLINES FROM NIGERIAN TRIBUNE*

---

100 Nigerians Die Of COVID-19 Complications In Seven Days

Last week, Nigeria recorded 100 new COVID-19 deaths which is the highest since the beginning of the second wave, Tribune Online analysis reveals.

The data also showed that the tally of 100 deaths last week shows there is a sharp increase when compared to the 69 deaths recorded in the previous week...

FG Owes Varsity Workers Over N150bn Earned Allowances

The Federal Government is owing the university workers, under the National Association of Academic Technologists (NAAT), the Senior Staff Association of Nigerian Universities (SSANU) and the Non-Academic Union of Universities and Associated Institutions (NASU), over N150 billion earned allowances...Okada riders on rampage in Sagamu over colleague's death

Okada riders on rampage in Sagamu over colleague's death