

Suspected cultists kill man in Anambra

Michael Ovat | Awka

A yet-to-be identified young man has been shot dead by some group of people suspected to be cultists in

Business Breakthrough Hour

THIS is the third Thursday of the month's edition of 'Business Breakthrough Hour (BBH)', a one-hour business prayer meeting

Awka, the Anambra State capital.

The incident, which occurred at about 8:45 a.m. on Monday, in front of new generation bank at Ukwuoji. according to residents, was as a result of cult clash.

The state Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO), DSP Ikenganya Tochukwu, in a phone chat said, "it is a cult-related incident which occurred today (Monday) at Ukwuoji.

"Police operatives are currently on ground there. I will avail you more details shortly."

Meanwhile, when Nigerian Tribune visited the scene, noone, especially the shop owners located in the vicinity, agreed to give proper information of what happened.