THE decomposing body of a fast-rising Warri-based comedian has been found in his bedroom days after he was declared missing.

The deceased was identified as 23-year-old Onomuakpokpo Ogheneochukome, also known as 'Brakin Face.'

Before his death, reports say he was billed to host his first show, 'Outsyd with Brakin Face,' on November 27, in Warri, with some 40 artists expected to perform.

Confirming the development, the Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO) in Delta State, Bright Edafe, said the comedian was found dead in his bedroom on Sunday after being searched for since last Friday.

Edafe said the corpse was discovered by the victim's sister in his apartment at Omiemo Street, Ekpan, in Uvwie Local Government Area of the state.

He said the deceased was last seen on Friday, October 1, while his mobile phones were unreachable, prompting friends and family members to set up a search party to unravel his whereabouts.

After his friends, colleagues and business associates could not ascertain his whereabouts, the team reverted to his locked apartment and broke in.

There, his decomposing body, said to be with no mark of injury, was found.
