

Musician shot dead in Anambra

Michael Ovat | Awka

A musician, Slami Ifeanyi, has been killed in Anambra State.

The 31-year-old former Mr Universe was driving his newly-acquired Lexus 330 when he was attacked and shot dead at Umubere area of Awka, the state capital.

A Facebook user, Chijioke Okanmelu, who shared the news of Slami's death, wrote: "I was speechless when I got the news of your death, Ifeanyi, but I still do not believe yet because this is not what we discussed on phone last week. What do you want your dad and your mum to do? You do not even remember your sister, your Adanne. I cannot question God."

The state Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO), DSP Tochukwu Ikenga, was yet to react on the development as of the time of filing this report.
