

Daughter, 52, drug, burn octogenarian parents

Olalekan Olabulo | Lagos

TRAGEDY struck in Lusade area of Okokomaiko in Lagos State on Saturday when a 52-year-old woman, Alere-molen Izokpu drugged and burnt his octogenarian parents leaving mother unconscious while the father has been confirmed dead.

Sunday Tribune gathered that the police have commenced investigation into the circumstances surrounding the incident that could have prompted the woman to set ablaze her 85-year-old father, whose name was given as Pa Michael Izokou and his 80-year-old wife, Priscilla.

Findings by Sunday Tribune revealed that the old man was confirmed dead at the hospital while his wife was currently in unconscious state as of the time of this report.

The image maker in charge of the state police command, Benjamin Hundeyin who confirmed the incident to the Sunday Tribune stated that Izokpu sedated his parents before setting them ablaze.

The suspect, who fled from the scene of the incident was said to have set her two sleeping parents ablaze.

Sunday Tribune gathered that one of the siblings of the suspect, Akugbe Izokou reported the matter to the police after being informed on the telephone by one of his younger sisters.

Hundeyin also stated that efforts have been intensified to arrest the fleeing suspect.