One dead as flood submerges Trademore Estate in Abuja

Lawrence Bajah | Abuja

HEAVY downpour, which started from the early hours of Friday, left Trademore Estate, in Abuja, submerged in flood.

The National Emergency Management Agency

(NEMA) told newsmen that the driver of a Peugeot 406 car with registration number YLA 681 FS died at Imo Street of the Estate while four other persons were rescued and are in a stable condition.

Trademore Estate has over the years suffered series of devastating flooding with lives and properties worth billions of naira lost.

Thanks to a re-engineering remediation strategy employed by the estate owner which ensured expansion of gutters and demolition of buildings along flood plains.

As at the time of filing this report, stakeholders responding to the flood were NEMA, Fire Service, FCT FEMA, Red Cross, and the Federal Ministry of Environment.
