

Lady falls, dies inside domestic well in Kwara

by Biola Azeez August 5, 2023 in Metro Reading Time: 2 mins read

AA

A 21-year-old lady, identified as Hamudat, reportedly fell inside a domestic well in Ilorin, the Kwara state capital, on Saturday and was recovered dead.

The Tribune gathered that the lady was mentally handicapped.

The sad incident happened at Ile-Kangu Compound, Pakata area of the Ilorin metropolis in the Ilorin West local government area of the state.

The state Fire Service, which confirmed the incident, said that the terrible incident occurred at about 14:55 hours (02:55 pm).

According to the Head of the Department, media, and publicity of the state Fire Service, Hassan Adekunle, the Firemen who recovered the deceased later handed over her corpse to her father, Alhaji Suleiman Issa.

“Therefore, the Director of Kwara State Fire Service, Prince Falade John Olumuyiwa, took this opportunity to advise the general public to prioritize safety and to be more careful in their day-to-day activities. Also, they should desist from sending under-age children to fetch water in domestic wells”.

