

Enough of killings in Zaria, other parts of Nigeria —Reps Speaker

Tasks security agencies to arrest, prosecute killers

THE Speaker of the House of Representatives, Honourable Abbas Tajudeen, on Saturday, condemned the attack by suspected bandits on Anguwar Dankali community in Zaria Local Government Area of Kaduna State, during which four people were reportedly killed and five injured.

The Speaker said 'enough is enough' on the killings in Zaria and other parts of the country, charging security agencies to 'descend on the killers.'

The suspected bandits reportedly attacked the community, shooting nine people and abducting five others, who later escaped on the arrival of security operatives, who engaged the attackers in a gun duel.

While describing the latest attack as one too many, Abbas commiserated with the families of the victims as well as the people and government of Kaduna State.

In a press statement by his Special Adviser on Media and Publicity, Musa Abdullahi Kri-shi, the Speaker bemoaned the spate of attacks and killings of innocent Nigerians by bandits.

He recalled how some of his constituents were similarly killed in an attack earlier in August 2023.

The Speaker said serial killing is not only in Zaria, but also in other parts of the country, insisting that the lives and property of Nigerians must be protected and safeguarded as provided in the country's constitution.

He said the security agencies should go after the suspects, apprehend them, and bring them to book.

The Speaker further charged them with preventing the loss of more lives and property across the country.
