

Imo: Police foil gunmen attack on Njaba station, neutralise three suspects

by Ruth Olojede September 16, 2024 in Latest News Reading Time: 1 min read

AA

The Imo State Police Command foiled an attack by gunmen on the Njaba divisional station, killing at least three of the suspects.

In a statement released by the spokesperson for the command, ASP Henry Okoye disclosed that the remaining assailants, who sustained various gunshot injuries, fled into nearby bushes.

Okoye explained that the hoodlums arrived in three SUVs and launched a violent assault on the headquarters with sporadic gunfire. Moreover, police operatives successfully repelled the attack.

---

Related Posts Police investigate murder of 28-year-old in Yobe

Borno flood: Police recover 11 bodies, rescue operations ongoing

JUST IN: Police confirm three soldiers, four policemen killed while fighting bandits

---

He said, “The items recovered are one General Purpose Machine Gun, one AK-47 rifle, and three vehicles: a Toyota Lexus 470, a Mercedes GLK, and a Toyota Venza.

