

<http://www.naijanation.com/2012/10/chief-emeka-ekwerendu-onitsha-car.html>

Tuesday, October 30, 2012

Chief Emeka Ekwerendu, Onitsha Car Dealer Killed By Robbers

Chief Emeka Ekwerendu, Onitsha Car Dealer Killed By Robbers - 4 armed men on Monday robbed and killed a middle-aged car dealer, Chief Emeka Ekwerendu, at Modebe Avenue Junction in the commercial city of Onitsha, Anambra.

The Divisional Police Officer at the Central Police Station, Onitsha, Mr. Temitope Fahugbe, confirmed the incident to newsmen, adding that he had not yet received details of the incidence.

*An eyewitness said the late Ekwerendu was shot by a four-man armed robbery gang at about 8:30 a.m. a few metres away from the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Odoakpu, Onitsha.
"The gang operating in a light green Toyota Siena without a vehicle number plate trailed their victim from a primary school close to the church, after he had dropped his children at school.
"As he was driving out in his black Land Cruiser SUV, he was shot dead and an undisclosed amount of money taken from the boot of his vehicle.*

"The gang armed with four Ak-47 rifle shot sporadically into the air to scare the people away as they escape he said.

You might also like:

Henry Okah's Trial Begins In South Africa

Nigeria wants Dialogue with Boko Haram, explains shootout

Taye Taiwo says QPR want to seal permanent deal