Three gunmen suspected to be cult members on Tuesday night shot and killed two people at a drinking/ relaxation joint in the Diobu area on the popular Ikwerre Road in Port Harcourt, Rivers State. Another victim of the attack, who managed to escape with bullet wounds, is now receiving treatment at a clinic in the city.

The state Police Public Relations Officer, Mr. Benjamin Ugwuegbulam, confirmed the incident.

He also said that the police had commenced investigation into the matter.

A witness said the attackers arrived the place in a green bus walked straight to the back of the building where the joint is located and opened fire on the three people at the relaxation spot.

“They came in a bus, which they packed in front of the building. One side of the doors was left open with a driver inside. They came out of the bus and walked straight into the joint like policemen looking for somebody.

“The next thing we heard was the sound of gunshots. They killed two people. One of them was playing snooker, the other person was an elderly man we call Ambrose a.k.a Liverpool who usually goes there to watch football,” the witness said.

Another witness told our correspondent that the killers didn't just shoot and run away, they actually confirmed that their targets were dead before rushing into their bus and speeding off toward the Abali motor park, near Isaac Boro Park.
