

Cultists hack man to death in front of church

CULTISTS believed to be students of the Lagos State University on Sunday morning apparently trailed a young man to the front of a church on 23 Road, Festac Town in Lagos, where they shot him dead, after which they escaped.

Government should do something about the crime rate in our institutions of higher learning and in Festac Town.

Mathew Ekundayo,
3rd Avenue, Festac