

Two arraigned for alleged murder

TWO young men were on Thursday arraigned at the Osogbo Magistrate's Court for alleged murder.

The accused, Ilufoye Olayode (25) and Ajiboye Kehinde (28), were in court on a two-count charge of conspiring and killing one Emmanuel Adegboyega.

According to the charge sheet, the suspects perpetrated the act on November 10, 2006, in Igbon, near Ejigbo.

The charge sheet stated that Adegboyega died on January 17, following machete cut injuries he sustained after he was attacked by the suspects.

It added that Adegboyega sustained injuries on the neck and legs, while other accomplices in the alleged act were, however, said to be at large.

The magistrate, Mrs. Olajumoke Daramola, said the court lacked the jurisdiction to hear the case or grant the accused bail.

She ordered the suspects to be remanded in prison custody and adjourned the case till March 15.
