

Cultists kill UniAbuja student

A student of the University of Abuja, Emmanuel Achigbue, was on Thursday killed by suspected cultists near the university campus in Gwagwalada.

The student, whose corpse was found near Omoyi Estate in Gwagwalada, is believed to have been stabbed. The Gwagwalada Divisional Police Officer, Mr. Suleiman Abutu, told the News Agency of Nigeria on Friday in Abuja that the deceased was suspected to belong to a cult in the institution. He said, "We are yet to establish the reasons behind the killing, but we know it was a cultist killing," adding that it was being investigated.

The university's Dean of Students' Affairs, Dr. Suleiman Mohammed, confirmed the incident, adding that the university was investigating it.

Similarly, a 25-year old man, Musa Muhammed of Anguwan Azara, Gwagwalada, was killed the same day by suspected cultists at the Queens Hostel. The police, however, said the incident followed a fight between the deceased and some students.
