

Fulani herdsman kills colleague

A minor argument between four nomads at a beer parlour at Shikinra village in the Rafi Local Government Area of Niger State has led to the murder of one of the nomads, Habu Madu.

The four nomads — Tanko Saleh, Umaru Usman, Haruna Salihu and the deceased — were said to have gone to the beer parlour after the day's work to relax when an argument arose.

According to police sources in Minna on Wednesday, the argument degenerated to a situation where Madu was hit with the traditional Fulani sword, making him to bleed profusely.

It was learnt that instead of the others to save Madu, who was already on the ground in a pool of blood, they added to his problem by hitting him with their sticks to death.
