

Save Ibafo from illegal bunkering

OLU Adepoju, Mowe, Ibafo, Lagos State: I urge the appropriate authorities to check the activities of criminals who engage in illegal oil bunkering in Lepete Village, in Mowe area of Lagos State. These people should be checked, with their clandestine activities that might result into the Jesse tragedy, in which scores of Nigerians died while some unscrupulous were scouring fuel illegally at a burst pipeline.

Deregulation

ADERIBIRO John, Illorin, Kwara State: The idea of deregulation may be good in some people's view because of the personal interest involved. However, the fact remains that the larger percentage of Nigerians live in abject poverty, while the infinitesimal number of Nigerians enjoy national wealth at the expense of all.

•Nemesis caught up with this man-eating crocodile when a fisherman, Benjamin Abu, killed it after it had devoured over six persons in separate encounters at Sheeta, Shiroro area of Niger State. The dead monster was displayed at the Government House, Minna... on Thursday. Photo: Francis Falola.

Ilugun Alaro in darkness

OLUSANYA Olowu, Ilugun Alaro, Ijebu Ode, Ogun State: We appeal to the authorities of the Power Holding Company of Nigeria to supply electricity to residents of Ilugun Alaro via Ijebu Ode, Ogun State. For now, power supply ends at Ita Marun via Odoselu.

Fuel price hike

OLALERU Waheed, 41, Jolaosho St., Agbado, Ogun State: I urge the appropriate authorities to sanction filling stations that not only sell above the recommended fuel products' prices, but which also compel customers to pay before they can be allowed to enter to buy fuel. Sometimes, they charge as much as N100 before one can make a purchase. The regulatory bodies should do something about it.
