The Lagos State Police Command has launched a manhunt for a man simply identified as Alaba for allegedly beating a neighbour to death.

The deceased, Gbenga Aladesuyi, was said to be a resident of Elemere Street, Meiran, a suburb of Lagos before he met his untimely death on Thursday.

Our correspondent learnt that both Alaba and Aladesuyi were ironing their clothes in the premises of a church in Meiran when the incident occurred.

Trouble reportedly started as a result of a sudden disappearance of a mobile telephone handset belonging to the suspect.

The verbal argument further degenerated into a physical fight during which the suspect allegedly beat Aladesuyi to a state of coma.

He was consequently rushed to a nearby private hospital where the doctor on duty confirmed him dead.

The corpse was thereafter deposited at a public mortuary for autopsy.

Confirming the incident on Monday, the command's Public Relations Officer, Mr. Frank Mba, said that detectives were on the trail of the suspect who was alleged to have fled the scene immediately the suspect went into coma.

Mba, a superintendent of police, urged members of the public who know his whereabouts to make the information available to Meiran Police Station or any nearest police station.

He promised that such information would be treated in confidentiality.

He warned Lagosians to desist from jungle justice or other forms of violence in the face of provocation and endeavour to take advantage of the criminal justice system and report all grievances to the police.

The command has also commenced investigation into the death of one Waheed Oyeyinka who reportedly fell into a well and died.

Oyeyinka was said to have been engaged to dig the well by one Mrs. Deola Olajide at Shagari Estate, Lagos.

He was said to have fallen into the well and died on the spot.

Men of the Gowon Police Station are investigating the case.

Comments :

if we can just adopt the european system.make a good law,enofrced it withut prjudice.saying that no one has the right to touch or beat anyone.i am nearly sure there wil be less violent.and you anyone try it,jaille without the option of fine.i am sure weill make a change.that is why i tell you Nigeria is like a jungle.
