25- year-old man, Mr. Nyerhovwo Enakirerhi, was stabbed to death.

The incident, which happened at a drinking joint at Ofuoma, Ughelli North Local Government Area of the state, threw the community into mourning.

The deceased, Enakirerhi, was allegedly stabbed to death in a scuffle at the drinking spot barely three months after he returned to the country from Libya following the civil war in the North African country.

The deceased’s elder brother’s, Happy Enakirerhi, who narrated his ordeal to reporters, noted that his brother had resided in the Libya for four years.

He explained that his late brother’s friend, whom he identified as Ovo, came to their house on the fateful day and asked Nyerhovwo to accompany him to a birthday party in a nearby community.

According to the elder Enakirerhi, the reason why Ovo stabbed Nyerhovwo to death has remained unknown to the family.

He alleged that Ovo absconded with several others, leaving his late brother to bleed to death after stabbing him.

He stated that six persons had so far been arrested by the police for their role in the murder and lamented that others were still on the run.

The deceased brother decried the lukewarm attitude of the leadership of the Ofuoma community to unmask the other suspected assailants that were still at large.
