

BrieflyCrash kills six

SIX people were killed on Sunday in Oke Afo, near Badagry, Lagos State, when a car reportedly being driven by a Customs officer veered off the Lagos-Badagry Expressway.

Assistant Road Commander, Federal Road Safety Commission, Hussein Haruna told the News Agency of Nigeria that the deceased were three men, including a policeman, and three women who were selling drinks close to the road.

He said the yet-to-be identified Customs officer had been arrested by the police.

Haruna said the remains of the deceased had been deposited at the Badagry General Hospital mortuary.

Eyewitnesses said the customs officer was heading for Badagry when the accident occurred.
