The police in Ogun State have arrested a 46-year-old unemployed man, Surajudeen Alaraba, for allegedly killing his wife, Rauda, by pushing her into a pit latrine in their Agbado residence.

The police also arrested an octogenarian, Gorge Dada, and his 64-year-old wife, Sidikat, for alleged illegal possession of firearms.

The couple were said to be parents of an alleged notorious armed robber, Adeyemi Dada.

Parading the suspects on Tuesday at the state command headquarters, Eleweran, the Commissioner of Police, Ikemefuna Okoye said Alaraba allegedly threw his wife into a latrine over a domestic misunderstanding around 7.20pm on October 7 resulting in her death.

Okoye said the unemployed man still undergoing interrogation and would soon be charged to court.

The commissioner of police added that the police would not relent in protecting lives and properties in every part of the state.

“The Agbado Division had a distress call that a man pushed his wife into a deep pit and we quickly rushed to the scene where the victim was met dead in the pit. The suspect was immediately apprehended and we are still interrogating him, he will be charged to court as soon as we are done with our investigations,” he said.

The police also paraded 80-year-old Dada and his wife, Sidikat, over alleged illegal possession of firearms.

The Ogun police boss said the aged couple was arrested on Saturday following the discovery of some arms and ammunition hidden in their residence at 21 Obarinwa Street, Aiyegbami in Ago-Iwoye.

He stated that the arms and the ammunition were discovered hidden in Sidikat's wardrobe.

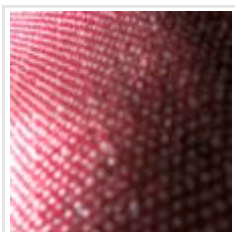

Okoye said, "The DPO of Ago-Iwoye, Stephen Iriavbijeh, got information that the couple's son, one Adeyemi Dada, is a notorious robber. The DPO then led a team to search the couple's residence.

"On getting there, the suspect was not seen but while executing the search warrant, one cut-to-size gun, two locally-made pistols and 16 live cartridges were recovered in his mother's wardrobe.

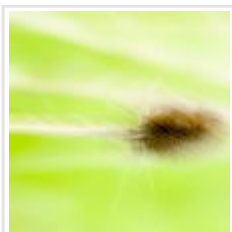

"Thus, they arrested the couple in whose possession the firearms were found for thorough interrogation."

The commissioner however assured the residents that the police would do everything within their capacity to make the state safer for all.

Most likely he had killed her before throwing her into the latrine in an attempt to conceal the incident. Usually such pit latrines are not deep enough to prevent an adult from latching on the wall and climb enough for her face to come out. Autopsy should be carried out to determine how this cruelty was effected. And then, I think we should exercise the quick death sentence as per constitution.
