

March 27th, 2014

Search this website...

Search

EXPERIENCE THE TOUCH OF GREAT RELATIONSHIPS
www.wemabank.com

Home	Special Feature	Metro Plus	Editorial	i-punch	News	Politics	Business	Sports	Opinion	Health
------	-----------------	------------	-----------	---------	------	----------	----------	--------	---------	--------

Feature

Blogs | Jobs | Forum

You are here: Home / Metro / One feared dead in Lagos explosion

One feared dead in Lagos explosion

MARCH 26, 2014 BY SAMSON FOLARIN LEAVE A COMMENT

Like 0 g+1

A gas explosion at Anthony Village, Ikorodu Road, Lagos State around 1pm on Tuesday has left one person injured while one other is feared dead.

An eyewitness said the explosion rocked the whole vicinity and people thought it was a bomb explosion.

He said it was later discovered that two engineers working on a gas cylinder in a bakery made a mistake which led to the incident.

He said, "The explosion was so serious that all the people in this place started running for their dear lives. An eight storey building beside the bakery, which is occupied by an insurance firm, quaked that all the workers ran out. When they brought out those guys, we could not look at them because the explosion brought out their intestines."

Our correspondent, who visited the scene observed that the bakery was blown up by the impact of the explosion.

The roof of the red structure was up in the air and the air conditioners were on the ground.

Blood stains littered the floor and spread to the entrance.

However, people in the bakery said no life was lost and the injured victims had been taken to a private hospital where they were receiving treatment.

Copyright PUNCH.

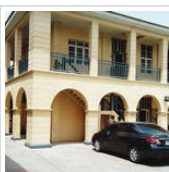

All rights reserved. This material, and other digital content on this website, may not be reproduced, published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed in whole or in part without prior express written permission from PUNCH.

Contact: editor@punchng.com

You may also like -

We are ready for April UTME examination - JAMB

Police arraign man for raping 11-year-old

Kenya beefs up security in shopping malls

Domestic servant in the dock over theft of N170,000

'African version of Amazon' Il emerge from Nigeria'

Most Read | Recent Comments | Most Commented

Diezani's jet scandal: Reps panel under pressure, uncovers third aircraft

Salvador knocks Bakare, Falana for rejecting confab allowance

Court declares new number plates illegal

Nigerians move against sleeping delegates

Sultan to Jonathan: Confab composition unfair to Muslims

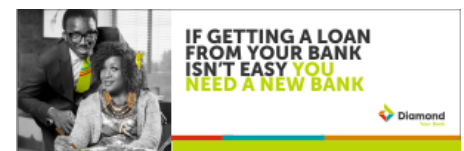

Columnists

Boko Haram: What does Nyako really know?
"The arms, ammunition and explosives being used by the so-called Boko Haram are not manufactured in Nigeria.

Somebody must have...

Read More

LATEST NEWS