Murder: Monarch petitions Ajimobi, alleges cover-up

APRIL 29, 2014 BY OLUFEMI ATOYEBI LEAVE A COMMENT

Oyo State Governor, Abiola Ajimobi

Traditional ruler of Abogunde town in the Surulere Local Government Area, Oyo State, Oba Tajudeen Aminu, has urged Governor Abiola Ajimobi to intervene in the probe into a murder case in his domain and prevent a perversion of justice.

The monarch alleged that some influential people in the state were making effort to shield the accused persons from prosecution.

In a petition to the governor, dated April 25, 2014, Aminu, through his counsel, Biodun Abdul-Raheem, said seven persons on December 19, 2013 allegedly beat a Fulani man, Umaru Musa, to death and injured other residents.

According to a doctor's report, Umar died at the Ladoke Akintola University of Technology Teaching Hospital, Ogbomoso, as a result of his injury.

The letter said Sunday Oladipo, Kunle Rasaq, Sulaiman Akanbi, Michael Oyeleye, Toyin Ajiboye, James Oyelami, and Sunday Oyeleye were arrested by the police and charged to court before Magistrate E.A. Idowu of the Iyaganku Chief Magistrate Court 5, Ibadan.

The monarch alleged that some influential people had been making moves to dismiss the murder charge and protecting them from being prosecuted."
